

Asia Pacific Journal of Educational Research

Aims and Scope

APJER (Asia Pacific Journal of Educational Research) is a journal of the Secondary Education Research Institute in Kyungpook National University, Republic of Korea. APJER is especially dedicated to searching educational ideas, issues, trends, and problems around the world.

APJER welcomes both established and emerging scholars who have a desire to reflect and innovate the educational fields. APJER seeks a wide range of scholarly perspectives and works from any Level of education like early child education, elementary education, secondary education, and higher education. We welcome both theoretical and practical discourses about education.

Call for Papers

APJER (ISSN: 2586-548X / E-ISSN: 2799-3116) is published every January and July. If you are interested in submission, please submit the manuscripts via email.

[Manuscript Guidelines]

Format

Manuscripts should include title, affiliation including corresponding author's information, abstract of 200 to 250 words, keywords of 4 to 5, and references. Acknowledgement and notes can be included optionally. All manuscripts should have a format given in the APA (American Psychological Association) 7th edition. Manuscripts should be written in Microsoft Word file with a font of 12 point size. The length of manuscripts should be from 6 to 20 pages, but it is flexible.

Submission

Manuscripts should be submitted to Secondary Education Research Institute's email:

apjer@knu.ac.kr

The next journal will be published on July 31, 2023. Please submit the manuscript by June 18, 2023.

Review Procedures

All manuscripts will be sent out for blind review. Any manuscripts that have been published elsewhere cannot be considered for the review.

Author Responsibilities

Authors are responsible for securing permission for quotations from copyrighted materials or materials in private collections.